Sheriff's Department

Board Vetoes Pay Increase

Hancock County Sheriff Sylvan Ladner lost a battle Monday for a wage increase for his department when the county board of supervisors deferred action on the matter until January.

Ladner appeared at a Monday meeting to protest the board's refusal of a 5.5 percent pay raise for sheriff's personnel, which Ladner said was in contradiction to an earlier board commitment. When the board approved his $122,000 budget submitted in late summer, he reminded the supervisors that they had also approved a wage increase effective October 1.

However, the board refused to authorize the sheriff's payroll docket for October, reflecting the promised increase. Arguments supporting the board's action were proffered by board president Alton Kellar who said that Hancock deputies are higher paid than those in Pearl River and Harrison Counties, and that the sheriff's secretary gets more pay than clerks in the court house who have been working there for years.

Beat five Supervisor James Travira said he was aware of the projected raise, but "was shocked" when he realized the amount of money entailed. Kellar said the county can't afford to support the sheriff's department under the new Sheriff's Succession Act, which abolished the old fee basis rendering sheriff's departments self-supporting.

"That's a bad act," Kellar said, "I wish we had the old system back." He was not against the sheriff's succession law altogether, Kellar stated, but felt that the present system is creating financial hardships for the counties.

Ladner objected to a board member's previous remark that the sheriff's secretary gets more money than court house clerks, some of whom have been working for the county for 16 years.

"I was in the court house 16 years ago," Ladner contended, "and none of these people who are in there now were working for the county then." Ladner reminded the board that the minute books reflected the recent employment of two clerks, one a time keeper and the other a deputy clerk to check invoices, both at salaries of $350 per month.

In further rebuttal, Ladner said county employees work eight hour days and get holidays off, whereas his personnel do neither. He reminded the supervisors that when they're on a case, he and his deputies often work 36 hours at a stretch, and work hardest of all on holidays. His secretary, who does all typing, record keeping, affidavits, warrants and bookkeeping, often works many hours overtime and sometimes on weekends.

Compounding the problem, Ladner continued, is the minimal staff now allowed under the Sheriff's Succession Act. His staff includes only three full time and one relief deputy, who is also the special agent paid in full by LEA, three deputized radio operators and two part-time relief operators, and three auxiliary deputies, part time. He is losing two of the auxiliary deputies, both of whom are leaving town. He has one secretary as office staff.

Receiving no satisfactory commitment from the supervisors, Ladner concluded his appeal by promising the best service possible under the circumstances, but added, "when people call for help and we can't provide it, I'm going to tell them to call the supervisors because you all hold the purse strings."

Sheriff Ladner's appeal to the board for funds was only one of several brought during Monday's meeting.

A request for consideration of a portion of the federal revenue sharing funds to the county was made by chiefs of area fire departments. Richard Fayard, Bay St. Louis fire chief, as spokesman for the group asked the board to help support the various volunteer departments in the county. East Hancock, Kiln and Clermont Harbor departments have been struggling for maintenance funds although the three groups are all the fire protection county residents have. The group was told that consideration would be given the request as soon as guidelines were received for disbursement of the expected $181,900.

Joseph McCullouch, superintendent of Bay-Waveland Municipal Separate School District asked the board to hard surface gravel driveways around North Bay Elementary School and Bay Senior High. The school system funds have been depleted by the construction of the new Waveland School, McCullouch said, making the job impossible for the system. Supervisors recommended that McCullouch approach Bay St. Louis for necessary funds.

In an unrelated matter, a motion was passed to advertise for bids to construct a new bridge over Hotten Bayou, on the Kiln-DeLisle

Council Receives Bids For New Police Auto

Bay St. Louis Commission Council received five bids Monday night for the purchase of a new automobile for the police department.

Those bidding included: Schuffert Pontiac-Buick GMC, Inc., 1973 Pontiac Catalina, $3,324.81; Tatan-Leggs Chevrolet, 1973 Chevrolet Impala, $3,594.25; Frank Hills Oldsmobile (two bids), 1973 Delta 88, $3,803.96 or 1973 Cutlass, $3,497.58; and Harrell Chevrolet Co., Canton, Miss., 1973 Bel Air, $3,269.54.

The bids were taken under advisement. In other business, the budget of the Parks and Playgrounds Commission was reviewed and a verbal agreement made among council members that the commission would receive an additional $5,000 from federal revenue-sharing funds.

Appearing before the council were Ronald Artigues and Richard Thomas, commission members, who explained the increase in the budget as the addition of new parks and the termination of the Interim Assistance Program. In the past, IAP had given financial support to the maintenance and construction of parks.

The council also agreed to advertise for bids on a warning system for Bay St. Louis. Mayor Warren Carver voted against the motion to advertise, claiming that he would vote against its ultimate purchase.

Bay St. Louis Fire Chief Richard Fayard requested the purchase of approximately $200 worth of clothing equipment for the department. Action on this was tabled until the next meeting.

The council agreed to sell the city's old garbage truck to Jake Morris for $50. When questioned by Commissioner Andre Arceneaux on the condition of the vehicle, Mayor Carver said that the "truck is just sitting, someone stole the tires and I think this is all we can get for it". Commissioner William Frisbie voted against the motion.

Buoy Center Receives Environmental Units

General Electric Company delivered four Limited Capability Buoys (LCB's) Friday to the National Data Buoy Center located at NASA's Mississippi Test Facility.

James W. Winchester, Director, NDBC, an element of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, accepted the environmental data acquisition units for the Center from Edward Ray, General Manager, Ocean Systems Department, Re-entry Systems Division, GE.

Jackson M. Dicks, director, MTF, represented the host agency at the transfer ceremony. Others participating included: Orway Gates, Manager, Advanced Requirements; Henry MacDonell, Marketing; Thomas Clifton and Calvin Lawson, Chief Engineer and Program Manager respectively, LCB; Ocean Systems Department, R.D.E.; Ray Campbell, President, Hermes Electronics Limited; Charles Francis, General Manager, EG&G of Waltham, Massachusetts, and officials of the federal and state agencies located at the former Apollo Saturn V rocket test facility.

Winchester, in his acceptance speech, noted that two of the buoys are of the drifting and two of the moored type of LCB. He said the units would be given a six month open-sea performance evaluation following deployment in the Gulf of Mexico.

"One of the roles of the National Data Buoy Center is the Center of environmental data buoy applications for government, scientific and industrial users is to provide a series of data buoys to match the needs of government and the scientific community for short-term and special measurement applications.

"We intend to utilize these buoys assembled with interchangeable parts as another step towards enhancing environmental data buoy technology and developing a comprehensive system for monitoring and predicting the state of the ocean and atmosphere," Winchester said.

Developed by GE's Re-entry and Environmental Systems Division, Ocean Systems Department in Philadelphia, Pa., both models of buoy utilize the same high frequency communications, meteorological sensor, power system and spherical surface float, the drifting version requiring only the addition of a sensor mooring line to change its function to that of a LCB.

Following deployment, the unmanned buoys will, upon interrogation, transmit limited meteorological and oceanographic and engineering data to the U.S. Coast Guard Radio Station, Miami, Florida. It is expected that both buoy versions will, at a later date, be converted to UHF, satellite communications.

Approximately 32 feet high, overall, with 67 inches underwater, the General Electric buoy is 46 inches in diameter at water level. Above this level it tapers through its mast-mounted meteorological sensing equipment and radar reflector to its 23 foot high radio antenna. Having a primary power source of alkaline-manganese dioxide batteries of 7500 watt-hours minimum, the buoy also houses a secondary power source adequate to power the navigational light for an additional 30 days in the event of a primary power failure.

Both battery systems are housed below the main float in a 24 inch round container which is also used as ballast. Utilizing common subsystems between the drifting and moored versions, GE's design is convertible from a drifting buoy to a moored buoy by the attachment of a mooring data line.

The buoy's mooring assembly is designed to provide a firm anchor, a stable platform for surface buoy tethering, and a slack line to permit the sensors to operate at sufficient depth and yet give the buoy freedom of movement in a heavy sea.

To fulfill these tasks the deep mooring system drops beneath the buoy to the ocean floor but leaves a subsurface float attached to the anchor line approximately 850 feet below the sea surface. This tank or float, exerts a 4,300 pound buoyancy pull against the anchor and the buoy is hooked to this stable tank via an elongated slack line.

General Electric is supported in the LCB program by two major sub-contractors: Hermes Electronics, Ltd., of Halifax, Nova Scotia, Canada, buoy mooring system and HF communications system; and Environmental Equipment Division, EG&G of Waltham, Massachusetts, meteorological and oceanographic instrumentation.

Hancock Sheriff's Deputy and special agent Ronald Peterson, who is coordinating the program, said a film and slide presentation will be shown, followed by a short talk on narcotics abuse by each member of the panel. An open question and answer session will conclude the program.

The panel will be composed of District Attorney Albert Nocaise; Dr. Sidney Chevis, Bay St. Louis physician; T.P. Naylor, Miss. Highway Safety Patrol investigator; Harrison City, Sheriff's Dept. investigators Lonnie Schultz, and Terry Schultz, and James Hanley, Long Beach asst. police chief; Hancock City, Sheriff Sylvan Ladner; and Police Chief Bill Carbonette will host the panel.

The Drug Abuse program is open to the general public free of charge and will be held in the cafeteria of Our Lady of the Gulf School, at 7:30 p.m.

Peterson has urged all residents of the area to attend this important event. All school students are especially invited to attend as well as adults, he said.

Facts of the current drug abuse situation as it exists in the Gulf Coast area will be discussed covering use, sales, suppliers, investigation, physical aspects and law enforcement.

Experts Will Serve On Drug Abuse Panel

A Drug Abuse panel, composed of Gulf Coast experts in the field of narcotics abuse investigation, is scheduled for December 12 in Bay St. Louis, under the joint sponsorship of the Hancock County Sheriff's Department, Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 3234, and Bay St. Louis Police Department.

Facts of the current drug abuse situation as it exists in the Gulf Coast area will be discussed covering use, sales, suppliers, investigation, physical aspects and law enforcement.

'Corruption' Faces Justice

A hearing Thursday night before Justice of the Peace John Gonzales on five members of Corruption, a local rock band, named into lengthy proceedings as each defendant requested a jury trial, necessitating six separate hearings.

The five band members with the band vocalist had been arrested November 12 and booked at the county jail on disturbing the peace charges, when a neighbor signed affidavits with Justice of the Peace John Gonzales.

At the Nov. 18 hearings, charges were dropped against the singer, Cheryl McCullouch. A six-man jury, chosen by bailiff Sam Pernicaro, brought a verdict of not guilty for Bernard Silvestri, first band member to be tried.

Serving on the jury were Louis DiSalvo, Sam Pernicaro, Jr., Mike Pernicaro, Charles Pernicaro, Elvin Walters and Louis Wagner. Serving on the second jury for Tommy Moran were Linda Serio, Jean Harmon, Larry Werner, Daniel Fayard, Corry Bielstein and Linwood Rutherford, Jr.

Both Silvestri and Moran testified under Gonzales' questioning that they had practiced at several locations such as Sam Pernicaro's (whose son, Dan, is a band member), Moran's Clermont Harbor home, Trapani's, the Waveland home of Forest

Bourgeois, Jr. and Mike Horne, who live on Sycamore St. According to Moran, the only complaints they received were the police were when they practiced at Pernicaro's and Horne's Bay St. Louis. Asst. Police Chief Douglas Williams testified that the police had received numerous calls of complaints against the band for "excessive noise" over a period of months. However, Williams said, the band always complied with the officers' requests to hold down the sound or to stop playing. Although neighbors have been complaining over a long period of time, Williams testified that Clarence Allen on Sycamore St. was the first resident to sign affidavits for the band's arrest.

After a verdict of not guilty had been brought by the jury, the second jury dismissed charges against Dan Pernicaro and Fritz Werner. Any further hearings would only be a mockery, Gonzales stated, as it was "obvious the hand picked jury would bring the same verdict of not guilty."

Monday's hearing on Mike Horne, delayed by his request, was attended by a large crowd of spectators, supporters of the two factions involved in the court proceedings. A lengthy and at times heated discussion of the relative legal implications of the case preceded the hearing between Judge Gonzales, the complainant Clarence Allen and Joseph Renuutti, Horne's attorney. Allen said he would be going to drop further court action because he was assured of not being disturbed again by excessively loud and sessions. He said he did not feel that the band was not bound by any previous commitment preventing him or the band from ever playing in his own home.

As no verbal agreement could be reached, Gonzales set the hearing for November 27 at 7 p.m., the case to be heard before a panel of judges.

News Brief

TAG CHECK

Hancock County Sheriff Sylvan Ladner announced today that he will begin a drive November 27 to ticket automobiles with expired Mississippi license tags, driver's licenses and inspection stickers, as well as out-of-state tags. Ladner said that he will set up road blocks and his deputies will be checking for these violations.

Declasse maladies — the bane of today's sophisticated and no longer his exclusive province. Thanks to the commercial world of television, even the most provincial can now keep abreast of the constantly changing trends and current fashions in physiological malfunctions.

Like a defective computer, the human body of today is a constant challenge to the medical programmer, who can no longer suffice with the mundane maladies of yesterday.

Asbestos, rise and fall, so do fashionable ailments. The gall bladders and various veins of the '40's were replaced by post-war nervous disorders and emotional disturbances, which faded in the face of the meteoric rise of various viruses. Numerous respiratory ailments with extreme cases from far-away places came quickly to the attention of the discovery of ecology and environmental disorders of the '60's still enjoy a good deal of popularity. Others, of course, will always be a part of the medical landscape.

SSC Faculty Members Attend Language Meeting

Father Gerhard Vogel, Mrs. Helen Currie and Charles Henry — members of the foreign language department of St. Stanislaus High School — attended the Mississippi Modern Language Association meeting at Jackson State College November 11. Father Vogel attended the session for German teachers, and Mrs.

Currie and Henry attended the meeting for French and Spanish teachers. Among the many topics discussed were ways of getting the Mississippi teachers of foreign languages together more often, ways of encouraging and improving the progress of students in foreign languages, and ways of preserving and promoting interest in foreign languages in the various communities of the state. Special mention was made at this time of the Gulf Coast region.

Mrs. Currie was elected president of the secondary school section of the Mississippi Modern Language Association. Henry was appointed delegate of the association at the approaching national convention of the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Language to be held in Atlanta during Thanksgiving Week.

REV. FRANCIS THERIAULT, S.V.D., is in Rome to attend the 1972 General Chapter of the Society of the Divine Word. Rev. Theriault studied at Divine Word Seminary in Bay St. Louis and between 1956 and 1964, served as assistant at St. Rose of Lima parish, Bay St. Louis.

TENDER LOVING CARE
News From Hancock General Hospital

Congratulations to HGH Registered Nurses. They have been awarded a certificate by the Mississippi Nurses' Association and the American Nurses' Association in recognition of the fact that HGH's entire staff of RN's are members of these associations. HGH holds this honor singly for the Gulf Coast Region.

Several employees have done a beautiful job in decorating the second Pediatric room. Thanks to those who gave their time and talents. All are welcomed to come see a job well done.

The Nurses' Aid Students will receive their certificates today. Congratulations to all.

An organ has been located for the Christmas Cantata. Posters will be distributed giving information about the Cantata shortly after Thanksgiving.

Club Plans Christmas Party

Lakeshore Garden Club met Thursday in the home of Mrs. Frank Peterson, Clermont Harbor, with Mrs. Florence Foegele and Mrs. Lloyd Garcia as co-hostesses.

Mrs. Henry Kothmann, president, conducted the business session. It was announced the Club's Garden of the Month plaque was awarded to Mrs. A.M. Thomas.

Thanksgiving and Christmas arrangements were judged and Mrs. Foegele's entry of a Christmas table arrangement won first place.

Plans were made for the group's annual luncheon and Christmas party to be held at 12:30 p.m. December 21 at Cher's Restaurant. Reservations for members and their guests must be made before December 17 by calling Mrs. H. W. Duke or Mrs. A.M. Thomas.

Mrs. Eugene Dufilho won the door prize. There were 21 members attending.

Modern Pilgrims Not Exactly Welcomed

Thanksgiving day - a national observance in the "land of plenty".
Its origin and traditions steeped in religious concept, Thanksgiving was invented when a small band of pilgrims, strangers in a wilderness, gave thanks to God for a bountiful harvest, for acceptance by the natives and for religious freedom - which they had been denied at home.
This is also supposed to be "the land of the free" - freedom to speak, write and worship according to one's own dictates and inclinations. At least, that's what the Constitution says.
Unfortunately, it doesn't always work that way.
Consider this Thanksgiving story of today, taking place in Bay St. Louis.

A few weeks ago a group of pilgrims, if you will, came to Bay St. Louis to establish a bible study institute and at the same time, create a wholesome, religiously-oriented atmosphere for today's troubled youth.

The concept of their religion is catholic in the purest connotation of the word. In the dictionary, catholic (with a small "c") is defined as "liberal, universal, not narrow-minded, partial or bigoted". What the dictionary does not say is that the word is obsolete, archaic and most of the time not applicable. Most of the adult leaders of this group are already local residents, active in the community and above reproach in department and life style.

It is admittedly hard for some people to understand this group because, as religious purists, their principles are so simple. They teach by living example and their doors and minds are open to everyone. And that, apparently, is where they made their first mistake.

They bought some buildings and appointed a staff. They asked no favors of anyone, religiously, politically or economically. When the institute was ready to open, a dedication was held to which some 22 members of the local clergy were invited by personal letters, as well as all members of the community. A lot of people came to the dedication, but only one minister. The other 21 were conspicuous by their absence.

Undaunted, bible study classes began and out-of-town ministers of other churches brought two groups of teenagers to the institute for retreats.

The natives got restless. Instead of bringing berries, fruit, game and fish as the original ones had, they brought a petition of protest to the city council. Signed by eight residents, none in close proximity to the institute, the petition charged that the noise of teenagers singing hymns was disturbing and that feeding 30 or 40 young people in the private home of one of the administrators was sure to be unsanitary.

Although the institute was in an R-1 zone which allows the operation of churches and religious schools, the petition further charged that the operation was in violation of the zoning code and demanded that the whole thing be closed down immediately.

All parties concerned are now in something of a quandary as to a solution (all except the angry petitioners, that is) and the operation is in a state of suspended animation.

One wonders what the Plymouth Rock pilgrims would have done under the same circumstances - and how the entire course of American history could have been altered.

Perhaps on Thursday we should all be thankful that they landed on Plymouth Rock, instead of Bay St. Louis.

Trumpets In The Morning

HOW TO GROW AS A CHRISTIAN

As a result of receiving Christ as Saviour and Lord you have experienced a new birth and begun a new life (John 1:12-14, II Cor. 5:17). Your physical life did not begin as a full grown adult and neither will your spiritual life. When a person is first saved he is a spiritual infant (I Peter 2:2). The following suggestions should help you grow into a mature Christian.

BIBLE STUDY - Food is essential to a person's physical strength and growth. In like manner the Word of God is the spiritual food that gives us the spiritual strength and growth. "Faith cometh by hearing and hearing by the Word of God" (Romans 10:17). "Without faith it is impossible to please God" (Hebrews 11:6).

PRAYER - Jesus said, "I have always to pay, and not to faint" (Luke 18:1). If you pray you won't faint, crumble, or give up. Your joy is dependent upon your praying. "Hitherto have you asked nothing in my name: ask, and you shall receive, that your joy may be full" (John 16:24). Prayer is talking to God and letting Him talk to you. If we love Him we will find time to pray. Plan to have a daily prayer time when you can be alone with God and read your Bible and pray.

FAITHFUL CHURCH ATTENDANCE - You need the church as a baby needs parents and the fellowship in the home. You need the help found in the meeting together of the Christian family. When you surrendered to Jesus as Lord and Saviour you joined the army of Christ. No soldier can be as effective alone as with other soldiers. "Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the

"The pious ones of Plymouth, Who, reaching the Rock

And then upon the aborigines."

.....and, having asserted their Anglo-Saxonism, in 1631 they joined their governor, William Bradford, in his proclamation, "...ye shall gather with one accord, and hold in the month of November, thanksgiving unto the Lord."

To say in 1972 that we have much to be thankful for three hundred and fifty years later is the understatement of the centuries. When one considers all the things this country, and we in it, have been through, just to realize that we HAVE been through them safely is enough to make each of us sing a psalm of praise to the Heavenly Father in gratitude.

Following the first Thanksgiving, the day was observed rather spasmodically through the years until the middle of the last century. Then, during the Civil War, President Lincoln started the yearly observance of Thanksgiving Day on a fixed date, the last Thursday in November - though what the people, especially those in the South, had to be thankful for at that time is a moot question. Since then wars, depressions and natural calamities, have failed to shake the faith of the people in the eternal goodness of God, and each year "we gather together to ask the Lord's blessing," and to stuff our-

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Wife in Name Only

"During their courtship, Hannah spoke sweetly to Jim about the joys of raising a family. But right after the marriage, she changed her tune. In fact, she refused to have sexual relations with him. Finally Jim sued for an annulment."

It is true that the law will overlook a certain amount of what it calls "the deceptive arts" in courtship. But deception about the intent to have sexual relations is usually considered too vital to be condoned.

This is so even if the subject of sex is never mentioned before the wedding. Courts say that the sexual relationship, even if not discussed, is nonetheless considered-by common consent-to be implied in the contract of marriage.

On the other hand, lying about something less important will not ordinarily justify an annulment. For example:

A disgruntled wife sought a decree on the ground that her spouse had lied about having a college education. But the judge decided this was not adequate grounds to annul the marriage. "Surely every representation leading up to a marriage cannot be material," said the judge. "The fact that a brunette turned to a blonde overnight, or that the beautiful teeth were discovered to be false, or that the ruddy pink complexion gave way suddenly to pallor, or that a woman misstated her age, would lead no court to annul the marriage for fraud. The fraud must relate to something vital."

selves until we can't see.

Thanksgiving is a time for families and old friends.

"Over the river and through the woods, To granddaddy's house we go"; we demolish the turkey and vegetables; we sample the many "specialties" that the ladies have prepared; and we overload our stomachs to the last notch with a piece of mince pie and a spoonful of plum or Indian pudding. Then we sit around the fire and get the latest news of Uncle George's rheumatism and Aunt Betty's troubles with the Ladies Aid and grandpa's prognosis of the country's business prospects. And pretty soon there is only the crackle of the fire and maybe a gentle snore or two, and then the sun goes down in a blaze of red and there is much bustle and laughter as the folks depart, and another Thanksgiving Day is over. But it is never really over, for the love and fellowship are left with us forever. And as we put out the lights and look gratefully toward our beds, we add a hearty "Amen" to the poet's words:

Dear the people coming home,
Dear glad faces long away,
Dear the merry cries, and dear
All the glad and happy play.
Dear the thanks, too, that we give
For all of this, Thanksgiving Day.
Happy Thanksgiving, you-all!

The marriage was based on fraud.
"Maybe I was less than honest," Hannah conceded. "But if people had to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth before the wedding, there would be mighty few marriages."
Nevertheless, the court granted Jim an annulment. The judge said Hannah's deception involved no minor matter but an essential element of matrimony itself.
It is true that the law will overlook a certain amount of what it calls "the deceptive arts" in courtship. But deception about the intent to have sexual relations is usually considered too vital to be condoned.

This is so even if the subject of sex is never mentioned before the wedding. Courts say that the sexual relationship, even if not discussed, is nonetheless considered-by common consent-to be implied in the contract of marriage.

Social Security Information

If you receive a social security check because you are attending school, it's your responsibility to keep your social security office advised of any change in your school status.

Joseph D. Alfonso, representative of the Gulfport social security office, said students fail to contact his office when they should and get over-paid. He gave these rules which will keep your check coming right on time.

If you are working and you are earning over $140 a month, let your social security office know. If you become a part time student, drop out of school or change schools, let your social security office know as soon as possible. If your employer pays you to go to school, let your social security office know. If you should marry, let your social security office know.

Mr. Alfonso said if you will follow these simple rules, you won't receive social security checks you are not entitled to. He said when a change does occur in your school status, simply give his office a call and they will handle it from there. The telephone number is WX-1523.

INNOCENT-LOOKING TOYS CAN BE DANGEROUS

Even the most innocent looking toys are potentially dangerous in the hands of the wrong child.

That's the basic message from Food and Drug Administration toy safety experts who are trying to reduce the number of toy injuries in the United States, a figure put at 700,000 annually by the government.

Some stuffed animals can be easily taken apart by a child, exposing dangerous wiring underneath. Check for unprotected wiring around the ears, arms and legs before purchasing such a toy.

Happily, thanks to the FDA, consumer groups and concerned manufacturers, toys are, in fact, safer than ever-but there are ways to keep the accident rate down.

The most important factor is parental supervision. Whether children are playing indoors or out, alone or with others, they must be watched. Choice of toys is a key to safety too. Select toys suitable for a child's age, interest and abilities. Keep in mind younger brothers or sisters who may have access to toys bought for older children. And, check labels on fabrics. Choose items with non-flammable, flame resistant or retardant fabrics and stuffings marked washable and hygienic.

STELLA TURCOTTE SCHWANDER

Mrs. Stella Turcotte Schwander, a native of Waveland, Miss., and resident of New Orleans for 34 years, died at 3 a.m., Monday, November 20, at Hotel Dieu, New Orleans. Born August 28, 1916, she was the daughter of Mrs. Cecile Carrio Turcotte, Waveland, and the late Walter F. Turcotte Sr.

Mrs. Schwander, a former Bay St. Louis and Pearl River Junior College star athlete, began her teaching career at Waveland Elementary School. She taught for 14 years at St. Francis Cabrini School, New Orleans, and at the time of her death was a member of St. Dominic Elementary School faculty.

A graduate of Bay High School and Pearl River Junior College, she attended Loyola University and Dominican College, New Orleans.

Mrs. Schwander was the wife of the late Jacob L. Schwander; mother of Mrs. Rosario Guastella, Jacob L. Schwander III and Walter F. Schwander, all of New Orleans. She is also survived by a brother, Walter F. Turcotte Jr.; four sisters, Misses Cecile, Evelyn and Mary Margaret Turcotte, all of Waveland and Mrs. C.J. Piazza, Bay St. Louis, and three grand daughters, Maria and Rosaria Guastella and Melissa Ann Schwander, all of New Orleans; seven nephews, four nieces and two great-nieces. Mrs. Schwander was also the sister of the late Edna Turcotte Bourgeois.

Funeral services were held at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday from Laudumey Funeral Home, North Rampart Street, followed by a Requiem Mass at St. Rose de Lima Catholic Church, New Orleans. Interment was in Waveland Cemetery.

MRS. FRED L. PREU

Mrs. Fred L. Preu of Washington, D.C., sister of Mrs. Claire Marx of Bay St. Louis, died at 5 p.m., Monday, November 13.

Mrs. Preu, the former Lydia Boyd Blount, a native of Water Valley, Miss., lived in Bay St. Louis for several years prior to her marriage, making her home with her aunt, the late Mrs. C.M. Shipp and Dr. Shipp. She taught for a few years in the local public school.

A graduate of M.S.C.W., Mrs. Preu later received a Master's degree from Columbia University. She was an artist of recognized ability and had exhibited on several occasions.

For over 30 years, Mrs. Preu and her husband, who was with the government here and abroad, were active members of the National Cathedral, Washington. Mr. Preu died two years ago.

A brother, I.T. Blount of Zapata, Texas, several nieces and nephews also survive. Funeral services were held Wednesday, November 15, at the National Cathedral, Washington, D.C. Relatives attending the funeral were Doctors C.C. and Catherine Brummett, of Mountain Brook, Ala.; Dr. Martin Boyd Marx, Lexington, Ky.; I.T. Blount III, Princeton, N.J.; and William T. Marx, Fredericksburg, Va.

Chamber Report

Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Manager

Real estate agents interested in having listings of homes for sale or rent posted at the Mississippi Test Facility for personal of incoming prospective residents, please have copies in to the Chamber office by Friday afternoon.

A Thanksgiving Dance will be held at the Annunciation School Gym, Kiln, Miss., Saturday, November 25 from 9 p.m. until. For reservations, contact Mr. Wesley Haas at 467-9892. Proceeds from this dance, will go to the Annunciation Church.

Many people inquire weekly as to when trash is picked up. In Waveland, trash is picked up each Wednesday and must be contained in trash bags. Due to the city's lack of heavy equipment, Waveland residents must convey heavy articles, such as washers, stoves, etc., to the sanitary land-fill off or Highway 90 on their own.

In Bay St. Louis, trash of all types is picked up as follows: 1st thru 7th of each month - First Ward; 8th thru 14th of each month - Second Ward; 15th thru 21st of each month - Third Ward; and 22nd thru 28th of each month - Fourth Ward.

Make a notation of the week for your area and we can eliminate trash sitting on the side of the streets for long periods of time, which doesn't add to the attractiveness of our communities.

The Chamber of Commerce wishes everyone a Happy Thanksgiving!

Urban 4-H programs are rapidly expanding. Chicago, Newark, Indianapolis, Los Angeles, Cleveland, Atlanta and Boston are just some of the metropolitan areas offering 4-H programs for urban youths.

Letters to the editor

Dear Sir:

I agree with the comments concerning Main Street in your editorial (Two-way Street Not the Answer) of November 16, 1972.

However, in all fairness I think you should have made it clear that I did not vote in favor of this change. Instead, I favored the recommendation of the city's Zoning and Planning Commission, to keep Main Street from Second to Beach one-way and to one-way Court Street in the opposite direction from Beach to Second Street.

Yours very truly,
Warren Carver, Mayor.

Reflections

ALTHOUGH NO longer there, many Waveland residents may remember the Albert Briede home on Coleman Ave. This photo, taken in 1942 was furnished by Mrs. R.T. Perkins of Bay St. Louis. Mince Meat Pie — Short 'N' Sweet

There is more than tradition that makes mince meat pie an all-American favorite. Today, it is the convenience of frozen ready-to-bake pie-crust shells and ready-to-use mince meat, so easily spooned from jar to shell. A twist of the wrist sets the automatic oven to the proper baking temperature. When the pie is baking, cut and top each portion with prepared topping whip.

Make mince pie baking your pet personal pie project. Here's how:

Buy: 2 frozen pie crust shells
1 (28-ounce) jar ready-to-use mince meat
1 cup non-dairy whip topping

Since frozen shells are packaged by "two's" — separate them. Fill the first shell with mince meat. With a small spatula, carefully loosen and lift the edge of the shell from the rim of the pan. Let the second shell thaw slightly, then loosen its edges. Turn it upside down over the mince meat filling. Fold the edge of the top shell over and under the edge of the filled shell. Press edges to seal. Making a standing edge; crimp. Bake in a moderate (350°F) oven for about 45 minutes or until lightly browned. At serving time, top with a half of non-dairy whip topping.

Mince meat is packaged in two forms . . . instantly ready-to-use in a convenient wide-mouth jar and condensed, packaged ready-for-use by the addition of water and a few minutes of cooking. Just follow the package directions about the amount of water and the necessary cooking time. Frozen pie-crust shells are usually found in the baking foods section of the frozen food case. Frozen shells and mince meat of your choice, capsule baking time, provide the personal satisfaction of producing home-baked pies of superior taste and quality.

Reflections

ALTHOUGH NO longer there, many Waveland residents may remember the Albert Briede home on Coleman Ave. This photo, taken in 1942 was furnished by Mrs. R.T. Perkins of Bay St. Louis. (Readers are urged to submit photos to the Echo for use in Reflections. Pictures will be returned unharmed at the Echo office in Bay St. Louis. Use of all pictures is left to the discretion of the editor.)

Mince Meat Pie — Short 'N' Sweet

There is more than tradition that makes mince meat pie an all-American favorite. Today, it is the convenience of frozen ready-to-bake pie-crust shells and ready-to-use mince meat, so easily spooned from jar to shell. A twist of the wrist sets the automatic oven to the proper baking temperature. When the pie is baking, cut and top each portion with prepared topping whip.

Make mince pie baking your pet personal pie project. Here's how:

- Buy: 2 frozen pie crust shells
- 1 (28-ounce) jar ready-to-use mince meat
- 1 cup non-dairy whip topping

Since frozen shells are packaged by "two's" — separate them. Fill the first shell with mince meat. With a small spatula, carefully loosen and lift the edge of the shell from the rim of the pan. Let the second shell thaw slightly, then loosen its edges. Turn it upside down over the mince meat filling. Fold the edge of the top shell over and under the edge of the filled shell. Press edges to seal. Making a standing edge; crimp. Bake in a moderate (350°F) oven for about 45 minutes or until lightly browned. At serving time: top with a halo of non-dairy whip topping.

Mince meat is packaged in two forms . . . instantly ready-to-use in a convenient wide-mouth jar and condensed, packaged ready-for-use by the addition of water and a few minutes of cooking. Just follow the package directions about the amount of water and the necessary cooking time. Frozen pie-crust shells are usually found in the baking foods section of the frozen food case. Frozen shells and mince meat, of your choice, capsule baking time, provide the personal satisfaction of producing home-baked pies of superior taste and quality.

Echoes

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Strong and daughters of Birmingham, Ala., will spend the weekend with his parents Mr. and Mrs. E.C. Strong.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Russo of New Orleans were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Baxter Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Scarborough and children, Janie, Amanda, Jay and Ginger of Jackson, Miss., are spending the Thanksgiving holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Scarborough Jr. and Mrs. Bea Favre.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Santinelli announce the birth of their first child, Melanie Ann, born Oct. 16 at Gulfport Memorial Hospital. She weighed 8 lbs. 9 ozs.

Mrs. Santinelli is the former Virginia Crouch of Jacksonville, Ark. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Santinelli of Bay St. Louis and maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Burl Crouch of Stuttgart, Ark.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Marcus Martin of Atlanta, Ga., announce the birth of their first child, Matthew Marcus Jr., November 10 at St. Ann's Hospital, Atlanta. He weighed eight pounds.

Mrs. Martin, the former Pamela Williams, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Williams of Bay St. Louis. Mr. and Mrs. Sanelle Martin of Pass Christian, Miss., are the paternal grandparents.

PROPER GROOMING—Miss Lamara Jackson, supervisory instructor of the American Beauty College of Gulfport, uses models Jo Labat, seated left, and Sherry Blackwell, both Bay Junior High students, to demonstrate the proper care of hair, during a recent program at Bay Junior High School. This presentation was part of the current health program offered in the Bay St. Louis public schools.

Supervisors were informed by Chancery Clerk John Rutherford that, according to a directive from the Internal Revenue Service, supervisors' December paychecks will be cut by $381.31, to reimburse the county for overpayment of salaries.

When the state legislature authorized state-wide salary increases for supervisors in April, Hancock supervisors gave themselves a $100 per month raise.

Three subsequent 5.5 percent raises, under federal wage and price stabilization laws, added an additional $88.83 to the supervisors' wages in the period between May and September, causing their salaries to be in violation of the wage stabilization maximum. The money has to be paid back by December 31, Rutherford explained, necessitating the $381 cut.

MR. AND MRS. LARRY LAFONTAINE

Miss Garcia Weds Larry LaFontaine

St. Ann's Catholic Church, Clermont Harbor, was the setting for the afternoon wedding Sunday, November 19, of Miss Nancy Darlene Garcia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alden Garcia of Clermont Harbor, and Larry LaFontaine, son of Mrs. Myrtle Sims and Mr. Lawrence LaFontaine of Bay St. Louis.

Rev. Canisius Hayes, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony before an altar adorned with arrangements of pastel gladioli, carnations and poinsettias.

Mrs. Carol Mitchell, organist, played the processional and recessional marches and a program of traditional nuptial music during the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white satin floor length gown fashioned on Empire lines with high neckline trimmed in lace beading with ribbon insert and long sleeves. Her floor length train was edged with matching lace. Her elbow length veil of illusion fell from a crown of beaded lace and she carried an Edwardian Colonial bouquet of white rose buds and stephanotis.

Mrs. Wanda Byrd was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Pam Cuevas, Charlotte Davis and Donna Clark.

They wore floor length polyester empire styled dresses in pastel shades of blue, yellow, pink and orchid. Black velvet ribbon accented the waists and wide brimmed matching hats. They carried baskets of pastel flowers in rainbow tones.

Miss Faye Cuevas, flower girl, cousin of the groom, wore a long white dress and carried a nosegay of pastel flowers. Joey Lizana, cousin of the bride, carried the rings.

Roy Ladner served the bridegroom as best man. Groomsmen and ushers were Jeff Colson, John Fricke, Alden Garcia, Jr., Ralph Garcia, brother of the bride and Allen LaFontaine, brother of the groom.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at Harbor Inn.

The bride's table, overlaid with a lace cloth and decorated with garlands of Rose of Montana, was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake decorated with pale pink spun sugar roses. A traditional bride and groom ornament trimmed the top tier.

The mother of the bride cut the cake and Mrs. Arlene Lizana, Mrs. Karen Ladner and Miss Sandra Gollano presided at the punch bowl.

Mrs. Garcia received their guests wearing a brown dress with brown and white check coat with brown accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The mother of the groom chose a beige suit, brown accessories and a white carnation corsage.

For traveling the bride wore a maroon and white dress and maroon accessories. An orchid corsage completed her ensemble.

Upon their return from a wedding trip along the Gulf Coast the couple will make their home on Lower Bay Road.

PELLAGRA EXPERIMENT

The first pellagra experiment was made at the Mississippi State Penitentiary in 1915. From February 4 to April 19, 1915, Dr. Joseph Goldberger of the United States Public Health Service carried on a restricted diet with eleven volunteer convicts. The experiment confirmed the conclusion that a deficiency of a certain vitamin causes the disease. Source: Kane's Famous First Facts. Released by the Mississippi Economic Council.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Giametta of Longview, Texas, were weekend guests of his mother, Mrs. Charles Giametta.

Weekend guests of Mrs. Leonie Monti and Miss Rosemary Blaize were Mrs. Monti's daughter Joy, and Miss Anna Margaret Boudreaux of Metairie, La.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Parker Jr. of Reston, Va., visited over the weekend with their parents Mr. and Mrs. Parker Sr. and Mrs. Charles Giametta.

Martinolich Named To Academy

A.K. Martinolich, Jr., M.D., of Bay St. Louis has been named a fellow of the American Academy of Family Physicians.

The degree of fellowship is an acknowledgment of successful completion of 600 or more hours of accredited continuing medical study, or attainment of diplomate status in the specialty of family medicine as a result of passing a certifying examination administered under the aegis of the American Board of Family Practice.

Fellowship entitles the conferee to use the title, "Fellow of the American Academy of Family Physicians," or "FAAFP." The degree was conferred September 26th upon more than 4,200 members of the AAFP's annual convention and scientific assembly in New York City. Ceremonies were held in Madison Square Garden's Felt Forum before more than 10,500 persons. Fellowship candidates wore academic robes, with hoods bearing the blue and gold Academy colors, and mortarboard caps. The oath of fellowship was recited en masse.

The American Academy of Family Physicians, representing more than 32,000 family doctors, is the only national medical group requiring members to take continuing study. Its members must take a minimum of 150 accredited hours every three years. Headquartered in Kansas City, Mo., the AAFP is observing its twenty-fifth anniversary this year; it is the largest of medicine's specialty groups.

Covington Lions Take Jaycee Bowl Victory

Friday night the Covington (La.) High School Lions defeated the Bay High Tigers by the score of 25-13 in the annual Bay St. Louis Jaycee Bowl at Tiger Stadium in Bay St. Louis.

With 1:10 left in the first quarter the Lions put the first score on the board when quarterback Richard Weissman hit Calvin Wilson with a 52-yard touchdown pass. The extra point attempt failed and the Lions had a 6-0 lead at the end of the first quarter.

With 5:18 to go in the second quarter the Lions got another TD when Darrell Richardson scored on a two-yard run. The two-point extra attempt failed and the Lions took a 12-0 lead.

The Tigers put their first score on the board in the third quarter when Willie Thomas picked up a Lion fumble and ran 35 yards for the TD. The two-point attempt failed and the Lions had an 18-6 lead.

With 9:31 to go in the game the Tigers cut the Lions lead when quarterback Fred Bilbo hit Dave Richardson with a 35-yard pass for a TD. The extra point attempt from placement by Sam Piazza was good and the score was now 18-13.

The Lions got their final score of the game in the last 30 seconds when Darrell Richardson ran 25 yards for a TD. The extra point attempt from placement by Tommy Wolfe was good and the Lions had a 25-13 victory.

The most valuable offensive player of the game was Darrell Richardson of the Lions, who scored two touchdowns for the Lions.

Sam Piazza of the Tigers was voted the game's outstanding defensive player.

The Tigers ended their season with a 6-5 record.

KANTCHA KETCHUM

By J. S. (Doc) Elliott

The past week end was an on and off. Rather cold and cloudy with some rain. Fishing in general was taboo. However the die hards got some flounders, red fish and a few speckles. Fresh water fishing was out due to high winds and tides.

As for hunters, squirrel and rabbit hunting was bad but some ducks and geese were killed out in the marshes. The uglier the weather the better it is for duck hunting. If you've been duck hunting.

Fresh water fishing was good in the mornings and no good in the afternoons when the tide was rising. Next week the tides should change with low tides mostly all day. Tides are controlled by the moon.

SPORTSMAN OF THE WEEK - A.J. (Tony) Scavo is about to retire. Tony fishes, catches crabs and is about to taking take up hunting. He has a home in Waveland and plenty friends.

A good spot for catching flounders is at Red Fish Bayou or from Red Fish Bayou to Long Point. Long Point is down from Bayou Caddy going west, come east from Red Fish Bayou to Long Point. Red Fish Bayou is this side of La France's Camp on upper Campbell's Bayou. Boats can be rented at the camp and live bait can usually be secured.

Out of La France's Camp in upper and lower Campbell's Bayou there is exceptional good Speckle Trout and Red Fish fishing. Bass and perch are also caught in the canals running into upper Campbell's. Take the road to East Anseley. La France's Camp is at Anseley proper. Cross the L & N Railroad and follow the road to the camp. Good fishing here most of the time.

Prentice Asher said he has been having a ball catching flounders in Heron Bay. They run from small to large, mostly large. Prentice is a local fisherman and not only catches flounders but red fish and speckles. He uses mostly live shrimp, mullets and croakers for bait, plus dead shrimp. Live shrimp are usually available at La Frances Camp on Campbell's Bayou. They cost 4 cents each and are worth every cent of it, if you want to catch fish.

Pete Noto is another ardent fisherman. Pete right now is catching nice speckles in the canals down Bayou Caddy way. When conditions are right you will find him walking the banks, catching specks. Pete uses artificial baits, the Shad Rigs, etc.

Dominick Sonier is a natural born fisherman. He fishes, catches shrimp and oysters when in season. Has been getting speckles off and along the two bridges out front. He is from Waveland but now lives at Bay St. Louis, thanks to Camille.

I was the guest of C.C. McDonald, Jr., last Wed.

belongs to the Rotary Club and has been an active member for years. Way back we will say.

Jos. C. Bosquet is a newcomer to Shoreline Park where he has a home. Joe is originally from Covington, La. and a life-time salt water fisherman. He is looking for a fishing partner.

Chas. La Fontaine also has a home in Shoreline Park out the Kiln Road. Chas. fishes and hunts, mostly hunts. His favorite sport I think is rabbit hunting. Has some good rabbit dogs. He has been getting some nice squirrels lately, also. Always ready to take to the woods.

Our old friend, Clifton Foster is down from Memphis, Tenn. for a few days. Cliff is a fisherman from way back. Rather fish than eat, he said. We'll get in a few trips, Cliff. He and his wife are visiting Mrs. Pate, his sister-in-law.

It's amazing how one meets folks. After a few minutes you can be related. Met a friend of Andy Anderson, Ed Foley, Sr. of New Orleans. Ed loves to fish, any kind. Andy loves having friends at his camp in Shoreline Park.

Don't think fish are stupid. They are not. They know when to feed. Most fishermen are stupid. Don't know when to stay home.

Lee Bourgeois keeps busy when not working. He fishes, catches oysters and shrimp. Enough said.

Mrs. Sam Boudage (Grace) is an ardent fisherwoman. She has been catching specks down in Bayou Caddy out of this world. Filled an ice box two days last week. Live shrimp is the answer.

Met a swell guy and fisherman Vasco M. Singley, member of the Miss. House of Representatives. Vasco is from Columbia, Miss., but does his fishing down this way. Will make that trip soon, Vasco.

J. Calix is a seaman who lives at Kiln, Miss. He works aboard the ship "Buck Eye" and when on trips does a lot of deep sea fishing. When off duty enjoys meeting friends at the Bay. Loves living at the Kiln, he said.

Jos. Scharff states he still plays a little golf. He also

Turkeys Awarded At Shoot

The St. Stanislaus Sideline Club's Annual Turkey Shoot on November 12 produced about thirty turkey winners. Winners of the General Shoot were William Steele, Teddo Thomas, Bonnie and Mary and August Scaffidi. The first place winner received three turkeys; second place, two turkeys; third place, two turkeys; and fourth place, one turkey.

Winners of the special shoots included: Nathan Ladner, E.J. Marengo, Gary Fricke, R. Peterson, D. Anselmo, P. Wilkerson, Brother Alban and James Neacise.

Shooters in the 410 ga. category also were awarded turkeys. Among these turkey winners were Rickey, Kennedy, Charley Jones, H. Stockman, Tim Althart, Brother Alban, Rickey Fayard, R. Saunders, Joe Stiglet, Kim Monti and Claude Garcia. Additional winners were Carol Glindmeyer, and Frank Cefalu.

by the rings on the scales, says Sterling Karl. He does a lot of fishing. Must be right.

Donald Cook fishes in Lake Lauderdale out from New Orleans. He specializes in catching speckle trout and red fish. He is the son of John Cook, a commercial fisherman. Visits Bay St. Louis quite often.

The Fair Grounds opened this years racing program on Thanksgiving Day with 104 racing days to go. You can bet there were folks from this area witnessing the first day's racing.

Dan McNear and Al Kingston, Jr., are fishing and hunting buddies. They have been getting fish, ducks, rabbits etc. Dan is Al Kingston's son-in-law while Al, Jr., is his son.

Australians Visit Local Rotary Club

Last Wednesday, November 15, the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club had as their guest six members of the Rotary group exchange team from Rotary District 267 NSW Australia.

The group study exchange Award, an educational activity of the Rotary Foundation, provides awards for an exchange of groups of young business and professional men between different countries for two-month study periods.

The Australians were taken on a trip through NASA Mississippi Test Facility. After lunch they were then taken on a tour of the Diamondhead complex. They then enjoyed dinner at the Diamondhead Country Club as guest of the management.

These young men were paired with local Rotarians with similar interest who were about the same age as the visitors.

Those involved reported a very interesting day.

AIB MEETING

The Mississippi Gulf Coast Chapter of the American Institute of Banking met November 16, at the Ocean Springs State Bank for a Board meeting.

A report by Warren Brewer on the Forum & Seminar Committee was discussed. She stated that the A.I.B. should sponsor a program presented by the FBI on the new program on the increase in Bank hold-ups, robberies, burglaries and the new techniques used by the criminal. This program will be held, November 28, at 7:30 p.m. at the Buena Vista Hotel, Hurricane Room. All bank employees are invited to attend. Kathryn James of the Education committee stated that classes in Gulfport and Pascagoula were now in progress and would end December 21.

The next meeting will be held December 12, which will be the Christmas meeting. Each member is asked to bring a gift for orphaned children.

DRUG INFORMATION CENTER, a new service of the Bay St. Louis police department, is explained by Police Chief William Carbonette, above. A large variety of pamphlets and informational material is on display in the lobby of the police station, in Valena C. Jones building, available to the general public, Carbonette stated. Most of the material is free and area residents are invited to take advantage of the information center. In addition, the center also provides the services of four members of the department, specially trained in drug abuse at the Univ. of Southern Mississippi, Gulf Park campus, who will be glad to discuss narcotics abuse with parents and children at any time, Carbonette stated.

Association Fighting Respiratory Diseases

Your Christmas Seal Association is waging a relentless fight against the suffering, tragedy and loss of time and money that result from respiratory diseases that affect breathing. Included among these respiratory diseases are emphysema, tuberculosis, chronic bronchitis, asthma, hay fever and other viral, fungal and allergic conditions and diseases that affect the lung and respiratory system, reported Dr. J.B. Levens, Health chairman. "Last year in Mississippi, there were 431 new cases of tuberculosis discovered. Already through mid-October of this year, there have been 340 new cases of tuberculosis reported. On September 1, 1972, the central registry of TB cases of the Mississippi State Board of Health listed a total of over 2,500 TB cases. We must continue to expand our efforts to find hidden cases of tuberculosis in our community. Christmas Seal contributions are used throughout the year in programs of education, case-finding, treatment, patient services, rehabilitation, medical education and research."

"A portion of all contributions will be used for the support of the Christmas Seal Professor of Respiratory Disease at the University of Mississippi Medical School. We need added contributions to provide funds for this much-needed project as well as other medical education and research activities."

"Other special projects supported by the association with Christmas Seal contributions include special training scholarships and medical fellowships for medical students and medical fellows in respiratory disease. The association also provides a Social Worker at the Mississippi State Sanatorium. A special appropriation of Christmas Seal funds is made to the Mississippi State Board of Health for the purchase of X-ray films and drugs for case-finding and treatment of indigent patients in each of the 82 counties in Mississippi. Each County Chapter provides emergency assistance to TB patients and their families and transportation to treatment facilities for indigent patients."

Voter List Ready At ASCS

Voter lists for ASC farmer committee elections have been prepared and are now available for inspection at the Hancock County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) Office, reports Forest M. Lee, Chairman of the Hancock County ASC Committee. The office is located at 103 West Cumberland St., Poplarville, Mississippi.

Every effort has been made to include all persons believed eligible to vote in the ASC farmer committeemen elections which will be held on December 1, 1972. Any producer eligible to participate in any ASCS program may have his name added to the list up until the election date of December 1, 1972.

"We hope that the citizens of Hancock County will give their generous financial support so that our program of tuberculosis and respiratory disease control can be continued and expanded in the coming year," stated Mrs. Elda Duke, County chairman.

"This list, we believe, records all voters in each ASC community, with no discrimination due to race, color, creed, sex, or national origin," said the ASC County Committee Chairman. He explained that in preparing the ASCS voter list, the local office checked previous election lists, farm record cards, records of other agencies and program participation records.

Retired Persons

Consultant To Discuss Insurance Plans Available

Insurance plans for older persons will be explained and evaluated by Michael A. Auth, insurance consultant for the American Association of Retired Persons, at a meeting of the Hancock AARP Chapter NO. 1114 at 10 a.m., Nov. 20 at Valena C. Jones Center in Bay St. Louis.

Members of AARP who are

PARISH SODALITY

Monthly meeting of the Sodality of St. Clare's Parish, Waveland, will be held at 2 p.m., Tuesday, November 23, in Costello Hall. All members are asked to attend.

Now U Bonds pay 5 1/2% interest when held to maturity of 3 years, 10 months 15 1/2 days. Bonds are replaced if lost, stolen, or destroyed. When needed they can be cashed.

interested in insurance matters will be welcomed at the meeting. A question-and-answer period will provide opportunities for individual cases to be explored.

Persons interested in attending the meeting should contact Fred H. Fisher of 408 Sears Avenue in Waveland, President of the local chapter. With more than 4 million members, AARP is the nation's largest organization dedicated to helping older citizens achieve retirement lives of independence, dignity and purpose. AARP services are designed to help older citizens living on fixed retirement incomes meet their health, insurance, medical, travel, and other needs.

AARP sponsored development of the nation's first group health insurance plan for the elderly and now offers a wide range of plans, including insurance to complement Medicare and an automobile insurance plan with non-cancellation features.

Other AARP services include a travel service, a job placement service, a mail-order prescription service, and a continuing education program called "Lifetime Learning."

Information about the Association and its services may be obtained by writing to: AARP, 1225 Connecticut Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036.

Thanksgiving

We plough the fields, and scatter The good seed on the land, But it is fed and watered By God's almighty hand; He sends the snow in winter, The warmth to swell the grain, The breezes and the sunshine, And soft refreshing rain.

We thank Thee, then, O Father, For all things bright and good, Our life, our health, our food; Accept the gifts we offer, For all thy love imparts, And, what Thou most desirest, Our humble, thankful hearts.

Bay High Class Holds Reunion

The 1942 graduating class of Bay High School held a "Thirty Year Class Reunion" November 11.

The day began at 11 a.m. with a tour of both the old and new Bay High Schools. The group visited their old classrooms and reminisced about their "good ole school days".

In the afternoon a boat ride up Jordan River was enjoyed by the group, at which time lunch was served.

Later in the evening the "class" enjoyed a social hour and dinner at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club, followed by dancing.

Prizes were awarded for the following: The one coming the greatest distance went to Mrs. Frances (Speer) Kiefer who lives in Houston, Texas and Bertrand Capdepon who also lives in Houston; the prize for having the most children was won by Mrs. Lorraine (Choina) Brown of New Orleans; and for having the most grand-children was Mrs. Aubrey (Toal) Little of Baton Rouge, La. Prizes for the least-changed boy and girl went to Mrs. Zedie (Capdepon) Shardella of Biloxi and Mrs. "Metzie" (Manieri) Blount of Gulfport and Leo Seal of Bay St. Louis.

Faculty members present were Mrs. Juanita Erwin, Miss Julia Blalze, Mrs. Rene DeMontuzin, Miss Gertrude "Tess" Perkins, and Coach Clay Boyd.

Those present for the reunion were: Mrs. W.W.

Brother Hilbert Speaks At OLG PTO Meeting

Brother Hilbert Mooney, S.C., St. Stanislaus Arts Department chairman, guest speaker at Our Lady of the Gulf PTO meeting last Thursday evening, was introduced by Mrs. James McCarthy, program chairman, who presented a program on arts and ceramics.

Sister Patricia Sullivan offered the opening prayer and David Treutel, PTO president, conducted the business session.

Sister Patricia Brandner, principal, and Mr. Treutel thanked the club for the success of the recent penny party and for the cooperation of the workers.

Sister Patricia told of the Lippincott reading readiness program for Kindergarten recently conducted at the school and the Club voted to purchase the program.

A report on the box lunch and cup cake sales was given by Mrs. Donald Corr, chairman.

Mrs. Patrick Murphy's second grade class won the attendance prize; Mrs. Harold Heine the 50-50 award and Mrs. William J. Hopkins the door prize.

Mrs. Patricia Corr, Hopkins, Heine and Ames Kergosien, second and third grade home room mothers, hosted the social hour.

ATTENTION BAY VOTERS!

IN AN EDITORIAL COMMENT (9-30-72), THE DAILY HERALD CALLED ATTENTION TO AN OVERWHELMING VOTE OF APPROVAL BY JACKSON COUNTY (PASCAGOULA) VOTERS FOR NEARLY A MILLION DOLLAR SCHOOL BOND ISSUE.

THIS WAS A VOTE BY A COMMUNITY TO MOVE FORWARD EVEN THOUGH IT MEANT ADDITIONAL TAXATION.

BUT!

THE EDITORIAL ALSO CONTRASTS THE ACTION OF BAY ST. LOUIS VOTERS WHO "MUFFED A GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY WHEN THEY DEFEATED BY A NARROW MARGIN A PROPOSAL FOR A $354,000.00 NEIGHBORHOOD DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM. THE SAD PART OF THE BAY ST. LOUIS VOTE," CONTINUED THE EDITORIAL, "IS THAT THE CITY, IN EFFECT, SIMPLY TURNED DOWN A FEDERAL GRANT. LOCAL OFFICIALS SAID IT WOULD HAVE REQUIRED NO TAX INCREASE."

SO!

WE WILL BE GIVEN ANOTHER OPPORTUNITY TO SAY "YES" OR "NO" TO THIS PROPOSAL AGAIN ON THURSDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1972. WE HOPE THAT YOU WILL VOTE "YES."

THE COMMITTEE FOR PASSAGE OF THE NEIGHBORHOOD DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

In cooperation with:
